

WAR OPENED ON SENATE CAUCUS OF DEMOCRATS

Hitchcock Calls It Political Machine and Demands Free
Action on Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Denunciation of the Democratic Senate caucus as a "political machine" by Senator Hitchcock, one of the Democrats who refused to be bound by the caucus on all features of the tariff bill, marked to-day's reopening of the fight over the income tax.

"Why should Senators be expected to be bound by the hasty decision of a secret caucus on details of the income tax?" demanded Hitchcock. "Why should they be expected to vote down every amendment, however good, simply because it comes from the other side of the chamber? Why should the income tax be not amended here upon the floor of the Senate if debate convinces Senators that it should be?"

The insurgent Democrats, who yesterday demanded that the bill be changed to increase the income tax on large fortunes, apparently had gained strength, and insisted they would force the party conference late to-day or to-morrow to make substantial increases. Senate leaders were prepared to grant concessions, but the insurgents were not satisfied that their proposals would fully meet their views.

Hitchcock's attack was delivered in connection with his amendment for a heavy penalty tax on trusts or monopolies controlling more than one-fourth of the country's production or trade in any given line. Five per cent. would be added to incomes of corporations doing from one-fourth to one-third of all business in any given line; 10 per cent. for those doing one-third to one-half, and 20 per cent. for those above one-half. It would apply to no corporations capitalized at less than $50,000,000 or doing a business of less than $10,000,000 annually.

Senator Hitchcock declared his amendment had been offered in the caucus and beaten, 23 to 15, but he alleged it had not been an open fight there.

"It was not even a fair test of caucus strength," said he, "for there was a caucus within a caucus. The nine Democratic members of the Finance Committee voted as a unit, without regard to their individual convictions. It was a wheel within a wheel, a machine within a machine."

"Caucus rule makes public debates in the Senate farcical. Senators will not even remain in their seats to hear them. Caucus rule kills the very spirit of legislation. This income tax section ought to be a matter of living interest. It is new legislation with vast possibilities, affecting not only revenue but social conditions. Instead of being here a thing of life and interest, it lies in this chamber a veritable corpse, and great debates that might occur if there were any real decision to be made here become farcical.

"Amendments have been offered from the Republican side by Senators who have made a study of the income tax. They were not contrary to any Democratic doctrine. Why, then, must Democrats be required by caucus rules to vote against them?"

"With other Democratic Senators I have felt bound up to this time with these obnoxious caucus rules. Now, however, we have reached a point where I feel free to take another course."

Senator Hitchcock added, in support of his amendment, that the anti-trust laws had proven failures, so far as checking monopolies and trusts were concerned. He declared his amendment, he believed, would prove an effective check upon the illegitimate control of the market by great trusts.

ASKS $7,000,000 TO RUN ARMOR PLATE PLANT

Illinois Congressman Wants Government to Operate Own Works to Break Up Trust.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Representative Britten of Illinois introduced to-day a bill to appropriate $7,000,000 for a Government armor plate plant to be operated by the Navy Department. His idea is to break what he calls "the trust now controlling the armor plate situation in this country." He contends that a Government plant should turn out 10,000 tons a year at not exceeding $24 a ton.

Representative Gregg of Texas, a member of the Naval Affairs Committee, introduced a resolution to have a committee of five Representatives investigate the so-called armor plate trust.

AMERICAN MINING MAN MISSING IN MEXICO

DOUGLAS, ARIZ., Aug. 23.—The disappearance of John G. George, an American mining man, after his release from a Federal prison at Empalme, Sonora, last Sunday, has created anxiety among his friends in Arizona. The Federalists consider George friendly to the Constitutionalists, and it is feared he was released after gaining his liberty.

George is manager of the mercantile department of the Richardson Construction Company, and is a business agent of John Hays Hammond.
